town; there is nothing that can do a town like that unless all those clever folks around the and even they might prove the great Shakespeare mistaken by their good works live after them.

The writer never saw a drunk man, he didn't even see the marshal who was presumably, looking for the streets. The town has had almost from its birth a legislative charter; the town has a progressive administration and its laws are rigidly enforced.

CORN ON THE SQUARE
The single stalk of corn that has grown up beside the light pole in front of the Ideal Dress Shop on the south side of the square looks the picture of health and is about as the tassel stage. Rev. J. E. (Tup) Plant
Writes of His Trip to Europe, Holy Land
In accordance with promises to my friends I take this method of giving a short report of my recent trip to the Holy Land. In brief I will say that I did go to the Holy Land, the place called Palestine. We all know that is where the Bible had its origin.
I left home March 18, took a plane from Montgomery to Atlanta and Atlanta to New York, arriving in that port city the same day I left Elba.
In due time I boarded the ship, Queen Elizabeth, which is the largest ship in the world. It is about four city blocks long and weighs 35,000 tons. I reached my destination after a five-day voyage which was pleasant except for one rough day when I was seasick. But I was not alone in that for hundreds of others were ill too. However, sea sickness never kills anyone, only makes them quite uncomfortable.
The ship unloaded us at Cherbourg, France. From there I took a train to Paris where I spent four days. A plane took me from Paris to the head of the Adriatic Sea in Venice, Italy.
The Esperia, an Italian ship, took me on my next major sea voyage. On board I met a group of German movie producers. The first stay of interest on this trip was at Athens, Greece. I toured this large city that is built on a number of hills. One of them is "Mars Hill" mentioned in the Bible—Acts 17:22. It is a small hill and is the place where the people ignorantly worshipped. I gathered a collection of small stones at Mars Hill. They were for souvenirs of my first direct contact with the Holy Land.
Next stop was St. Cyprus, a place where St. Paul preached also. On that leg of the journey I spent passed the islands of Rhodes, Crete and Patmos. Finally the ship docked at Haifa, Israel, which is the main land of Palestine. From Haifa I went to Tel Aviv, about 75 miles along the shores of the Mediterranean. While making the tour I saw a fulfillment of the 36th chapter of the Prophet Ezekiel, Verse 22 to 35.
Upon my arrival at Tel Aviv I was wonderfully entertained by our Ambassador E. P. Keiser. He is the husband of the former Ambassador Sessions, daughter of Mrs. Estella Sessions of Enterprise.
While in Tel Aviv, I visited a number of interesting places when I will mention briefly. Among them were Nazareth, the place Jesus grew to manhood, the River Jordan where Jesus was baptized, the Sea of Galilee where he fed the multitude, the Mount of Olives, Mount of Beatitudes and a part of the promised land. I hope to tell these interesting facts where I am invited to preach. I have a number of invitations in lodges, churches and schools in this region.
From Tel Aviv, Israel, I went to Jerusalem and on the way passed the place where Solomon lived as found in the book of the Judges, also the Prophet Isaiah. I then arrived in Old Jerusalem after crossing the "No Man's Land" between the Jewish and Arabian armies.
I spent more than a week in the old city of Jerusalem. From there I traveled to many places
